

Satan's Eden no 118
World Council of churches part 2
July 30, 2023
Brian Kocourek, Pastor

Let's bow our heads in prayer. Gracious Father, we thank You, Lord, for this day. We have Your presence to be with us in this meeting, and to bring forth Thy Word in trueness, without compromise. In Jesus Name we pray. Amen.
You may be seated.

Before we begin our study, I would like to show you that if you belong to a WCC church you are taught one thing, and that is "Not to think for yourself". Yes, that is correct. You are taught not to think. Jesus said they will not go in and neither will they allow others who are entering, to enter. This is willful ignorance. And with this willful ignorance I want to show you how they tie the World Council of Churches to the World Health Organization, which is one of the most diabolical organizations of all time. This really is why we will have to keep our eyes open. Because we know how Governments locked down the rights to assemble in 2020. And we know that every church leader from the Baptists to the Catholics, to the Assemblies of God to the Mormons, and I listed at the time, I think about 20 different leaders of great organizations that said: "If you are a member of the World Council of churches, you can't be a Christian if you haven't taken the WHO's protocol". Which is proven beyond any scientific realm to have poisoned the people. So they say: "If you are a Christian, you'll take the jab".

Well, I'm telling you that I don't care what YouTube has to say anymore. I've instructed Brother Sem to take us off of YouTube because I think YouTube is a corrupt organization filled with devil possessed people, who ... Brother Branham said, the world is worshipping Satan and they don't know it. He said that's the most diabolical thing in this hour. So, if you go to one of those churches, you're going to hell, I'm sorry, in a handbasket, you're going to hell. 90% of the people who claim to believe anything, they don't. And only about maybe 10% of the crowd I'm dealing with. So you know, their problems, it's not ours, but you know they want to censor. It's interesting because Brother Branham said in the 50s and 60s, they should be censoring the filth that's coming forth from television.

Now they're not only letting all that uncensored stuff come out, but they're censoring the truth. So I don't care about YouTube anymore. I don't care about any of them. We're going to go back to our own site. We have our website and Rumble, they are just a kind of backing up the system. But anyway, you get it from the website, and you won't be getting it from YouTube anymore. I'm through with them. Well, I'll explain it to you in just a minute. Look, I know we will be banned by YouTube and its devilish opposition to free speech, but I hope they kick us off permanently. Actually, I instructed Brother Sem, so he didn't even put it up this morning. So if you're trying to get onto YouTube, I'm sorry, but I'm speaking in vain, because you're not going to get it there. I think that anyone who uses them instead of coming to our website directly, is playing into their hands. You might say it is easier to go to YouTube than your website. How lazy do we want to be?

I'm sorry, but you people out there, especially millennials that depend on websites like YouTube and Facebook, you're just lost people and you just don't understand what's going on. You would take a platform that bans people over one that doesn't. We were on Face-Book only one week and we got banned. Who needs them. They received their initial $400,000 from the NSA and are funded by the CIA. They are being used to track your every move. Who needs them. We only used them because some Millennials in this message said it was easier to go there. They said we would reach more people. Yeah, we were on Facebook one time, and they kicked us off. So you know it just shows ... I had people from South America say, oh you got to go on You Tube, you got to go on Facebook. I said, well okay. Then I said to Brother Sem, go ahead and put us on. And we got on and off in one day, because they kicked us off. And so you know, they don't want this gospel out there. They don't want the truth out there. They just want a bunch of nonsense.

I had four JWs (Jehovah Witnesses) show up this week. And so I knew that they were JWs because there was scripture they gave me about Jehovah, our God. And I said: Yes, He is our God. And I said: And Jesus is His son. And I said: Now, do you understand the word Parousia? Oh yeah. I mean, Parousia. See? Yeah, yeah, Parousia. Do you understand that? Yes. I said: Well, do you understand? There's 86 different things that Jesus said would take place. 52 with Paul and Peter and James and John. And I said: Tell me 10 of them. He couldn't do it. I said: Then you don't believe your own doctrine. Because you know, the JWs believe in the Parousia of Christ, but they believe it was 1914 or 1914 till when? You see? He's here now.

And so, I'm sorry but the Bible says that if you don't hearken to the voice of the Lord your God, which means pay special attention to it, you're going to hell. I'm sorry. You're just not going to make it. You're just lost, people. Now, you might think I'm talking tough. I am talking tough, because that's the fact. That's the cold calculated facts. And I'm sorry, but that's God's Word. So I think anybody that wants to use You Tube, wants to use Facebook, and all these other things, that is a devil's platform. And they say: We'll just let ourselves, we just won't talk about these issues, because we just want to reach out and touch. Give me a break. You're looking for money, that's all you're looking for, is money.

From an article called World Council of Churches Christian Commission, "World Council of Churches Christian Medical Commission June 1968: in Geneva, a little group of people gathers, called together by the World Council of Churches (WCC). The Christian Medical Commission (CMC), under its first director, James McGilvray, has been charged with the responsibility to promote the coordination of national church-related medical programs, and to engage in study and research into the most appropriate ways in which the churches might express their concern for total health care.

Now you would say, well, what does the World Council of Churches have to do with health? Well, you're going to find out that they are in lockstep with the World Health Organization, which is a demon possessed people. I mean, listen, the World Health Organization, I found out early around 2001 or 2002 that they were injecting a chemical into all the vaccines in South America and were making little girls bleed continuously until they were sterile. Now not only did they do that in South America, the country of India sued them and won't allow the World Health Organization into their country. It won't allow Bill Gates in the country. He's under orders to be arrested as soon as he shows up there. All right. Bill Gates. Why? Because Bill Gates is with no knowledge of medicine, no college education of medicine, no college education, period. Actually, he's just kind of a good old boy. He's a thief because he stole his DOS 1.0 from a or actually paid.

He went to IBM and said to IBM: I've got a program that'll run on your personal computers. And they said: Good, what is it? He called it DOS. All right. He just made a name up, during that meeting. Then, after the meeting they said: Well, we would like to have a copy and test it out. So, then he went to his friend. He said: Hey listen, I'll buy that copy of that program that you made. I'll buy it from you for $50,000. Oh, wow, that sounds pretty good. I'll buy it for 50,000. So he sells it to him, and then he turns around and makes millions of dollars off of it. Now, what else did he do? He stole the Windows program from Apple. They had a big lawsuit. Listen, these guys are nothing but thieves. Didn't Jesus say that this age would come in with deception?

They're nothing but thieves and robbers. They're all going to burn in hell, and I don't think the blood of Jesus Christ is going to cleanse them, because they don't walk in the light. So you know, they're on their own. And I'm really upset that people are just so whimsical when it comes to the Word of God.

The young CMC was born out of the long history of Christian involvement in healthcare. For over 100 years, medical work had provided one of the main focuses for Christian missionary work, the other being education and church planting. On their website the WCC said, "The WCC's relationship with the World Health Organization and other international organizations, such as UNICEF and UNAIDS, allows it to facilitate networking and advocacy on behalf of church-related health networks." Oh, give me a break. You know what UNICEF is? It's the United Nations. It's provided by the United Nations.

You know what they did in the 1980's? I was told by my company, I worked for Sperry Univac at the time, and they said: You're going to donate part of your salary to UNICEF. And I said: No, I'm not. I donate that to my church. I thought I'm not going to make the contribution. Then we found out that UNICEF was funding $40 million worth of weapons to Angola. To the rebels in Angola, $40 million with the weapons. to Angola for the Resurgence. OK, UNICEF did that. And I told my boss, I showed him the thing and he saw that.

Well, then I showed it to a bunch of other people, and we all protested. And finally, they didn't make us contribute anymore. But you know, they were taking our money. Taxation without representation. You don't have to pay for those things. If your company says I want you to donate, forget it. I'm not going to donate to anything I'm not sure of. It's like we'll take the jab, and everybody will feel good. Just a minute, show me the MSDS sheet. Oh, excuse me, there's nothing on the MSDS sheet. Then this is just water? Well, even if it was water, it would have H<sub>2</sub>O and a few other things on it, but it doesn't. They were hiding it from the people. Did you know that 91% of the young children in UK, 91% of the people that were infected with the two jabs, died? Zero of the unjabbed.

Did you know there's a plague coming across Europe right now, and it's called Congo Crimea and it's affecting and killing people in Spain? Did you know that only the jabbed are falling victim to it and the unjabbed are not? You know that it's nothing but deception in this hour. And you say: Oh, we should just be nice and be sweet and everything else. I can't be nice. I can't be sweet, when I see so much deception taking place in the world, because this world is going to hell, and I don't wish it to go to hell. I would like to try to save as many people as possible, but they won't listen. They're too busy with their Facebook or their YouTube or watching movies or whatever.

Instead of listening and learning, instead of getting news from the mainstream media, I'm going to read you something about what the WCC said. They said: Don't you listen to anything about COVID except for that what comes from a mainstream media. It just shows they're dumb. They're stupid. Yeah, I'm going to say the word, stupid. They are stupid people. They're ignorant. And the Bible says not only ignorant, are they, but they are willfully ignorant. The WCC's relationship with the World Council, with the World Health Organization and other international organizations, such as UNICEF, which I've shown are bad, and UNAIDS which was another thing. You know what UNAIDS is? You know who set that up? Fauci. You know what they did. They gave people at the starts with Aids a drug, AZT, it's AZT. And they didn't do any studies. They just handed out willy-nilly. Oh, this is going to work. And they gave them 500x a dose, that would kill them. Then when they decide: Oh, I guess we gave them too much, we'll cut it back. Well, then they cut it back and started to help some people. But they willfully killed people, and there's nobody going to jail for it. Willfully, Hunter Biden has committed all kinds of crimes. And will he go to jail? I doubt it. Will his dad go to jail? Biden? Will he go to jail? No, he won't. He'll escape. And then these people, there's a duels. Listen, if you do anything wrong, you're going to go to jail. Or they'll even make up stuff against you to put you in prison. But if they want to do anything hey, it's okay because they're Democrat.

You know, the demon cracks, is what they are.

They also said this, “Voices of Lament, Hope, and Courage A Week of Prayer in the Time of the COVID-19 Pandemic.

To commemorate a year since the World Health Organization (WHO) declared the spread of COVID-19 a pandemic, the World Council of Churches provides this resource for a week of prayer.

They also said this, “There is much information about COVID-19 in so many places, from so many people! How do I decide what to believe and what not to believe?”

Notice the Wording here. It is making the case that we should not listen to anyone but main-steam media. What a lie this is. It shows they have chosen to listen to men who for money's sake will push a certain agenda.

They went on to state, “The ease with which information is generated and distributed has allowed us to share critical health information with many people. Unfortunately, the same tools are being used to spread misleading information.” This shows they are not willing to debate openly. The Bible said called them “willfully ignorant”. And they are willfully ignorant when they choose to turn down truth for lies.

This doesn't say, “Listen and learn from whom ever has the best and most accurate and truthful information.” It says, “Stay away from anything that is not accepted by the mainstream Media, no matter if they are wrong.” What?

No matter if the mainstream media is wrong, still listen to them. That's what they say here. Stay away from anything that is not accepted by the mainstream media. No matter if they are wrong. A bunch of idiots. And I'll tell you what, everybody that claims to be a Christian in this nation is an idiot, except for those who are born again, the Bride of Christ. That's why the Church is going in the tribulation. Because she has turned it down. She is not hearkening to the voice of the Lord, their God. They're just saying: Well, we're a Christian, Hallelujah. We do certain things, we have certain morals and this and that. No, you don't.

Okay. Well, I'm going to stick with my LBT, and they can have their LGBT because I have no love for their sodomite agenda. “You should rely on mainstream media for the facts on COVID-19 because they verify their facts.” (This is another lie, they lie to us, they give us a MSDS sheet that is blank and expect us to make an uninformed choice.) They don't verify facts. They've got all these fact checkers that sell that. Just pure lies. It's just all they do.

Mark Twain said, “If you refuse to read the Newspaper you will be uninformed, but if you read it, you will be misinformed.” So, you will be better off doing your own research.

What would you rather be, uninformed and not really know? So, you're going to check it out for yourself, or would you be misinformed? Would you rather be misinformed so that you don't decide to check it out for yourself? So, you'll be better off doing your own research. Then they say on their WCC website, “The WHO and the regional bodies are also credible sources of medical data.”

WHO is credible? Fauci, is he credible? No. Fauci never acted when he graduated, with a medical degree. He never went into medicine. Did you know that? He might have the MD before his name, but he's not a medical doctor. He's never worked as a medical doctor. He's only acted as an administrator. All right.

You know, all those years as an administrator, he killed millions, and it was his age project. He killed millions through his COVID project. So he's going to burn in hell for a long time. I tell you what, I'll stand against him. Who says the WHO is credible? The man in charge of them, and your medical choice, is not even an MD. The man in charge of the WHO is not even an MD. He's just a person. Okay. He's a slick talking willie. I have more science in my schooling than he does. I have a minor in Biological Sciences. He is a lifelong bureaucrat with no medical knowledge like Bill Gates, who is another usurper who has no post high school degree. Yet he wishes to pontificate to you that you must eat bugs instead of meat. And he made his money off of deception to begin with. He stole another man's program and sold it to IBM for millions. What a phony he is. Didn't Jesus say this would be an age of deception?

The article continues.

“All treatment claims must undergo statistical trials; (Which they did not do.) until then they are premature and best ignored. Well, you know what they say? They must. But you know what they did? They didn't do statistical trials. They didn't do any trials. They just manufactured it, willy-nilly. And like Trump, who's just as culpable as the rest of them, because he pushed for us, you know, speed it through, speed it through, speed it through. We should have known right then. Just a minute, just a minute. Anything that is manufactured, that's supposed to help people needs, is to be trialed. Because you don't know if it's all poisons, and you don't know how much poison you're taking. So he's just as guilty. I wouldn't vote for him, if you paid me. Until then, they are premature and best ignored. Until when? Until they go under a statistical trial?

Well, then what are you pushing for their agenda for, when they haven't statistically trialed them? Okay, they didn't do it. We should not be part of the problem. Be prudent and only forward to others information that you have verified to be true and useful. I'm doing that. But they're not doing it, because they only rely on the mainstream media. It's not verified. It's not proven to be true.

“Visit the WHO website for the most updated information on COVID”. I wouldn't touch them because they're a bunch of liars. Listen, why are the churches in America so-called Christian? Why are they allowing what has happened in Congress? Because they're not Christians.

They're not Christians. Most people in this country, I'd say 99% in this country that claim to be Christians, are heathens. They believe in Father, Son, and Holy Ghost. They believe in the Babylonian Triad. They believe in heathenism, paganism. And we say: Oh, we should be nice, he mentioned God. Yeah. Which God is he mentioning? You know, they won't pray in the name of Jesus.

They say: In your name we pray. Well, right off the bat, whose name are you praying to?

I want to know who I'm praying to, but they won't do it. So, this so-called Christian organization "the WCC", is in lock step with the WHO, which is a notorious organization, which is known in India and many South American countries for its deceptive practices in making young girls sterile, promising their vaccines would prevent cancer, while lacing them with deadly drugs to cause sterility, and continuous bleeding, and cancer. Oh, what a deceptive age we are living in. So, their drug that the girls take, it's Human papilloma. Virus HPV.

So they say: Oh, everybody, all these girls, 13 years and up, they should be taking HPV because it'll keep them from getting cervical cancer and everything else. You know what it is doing? It's giving them cervical cancer. So don't trust them at all, and everything, even your own doctors. I wouldn't trust the doctors. They're not worth their ... I'll tell you one thing you can do with the doctor. You can go over your blood work and have them explain it to you. But beyond that, don't take whatever advice they give, because they're taught by the book. Do this, do this, do this. Use your common sense. Do your own research. All right.

From his sermon Influence of another - 62-1013 54. I understand that everybody that won't agree and come into the international agreement of this fellowship that they're trying to form to unite all churches together the federation of churches, that all that won't come in and unite with it, they're making them a little province; they're going to send them to Alaska. You might as well get ready for cold weather, 'cause it looks like it's coming.

If you're not in the bride of Jesus Christ, you're going to go through this. You'll be shipped off to Alaska. And let me just read more.

Currently, the largest of these FEMA facilities is just outside of Fairbanks, Alaska. The Alaskan facility is a massive mental health facility. (What are they going to do? Deprogram you? It's a mental health facility. Well, how is it going to do that? By injecting you with a COVID shot, which will change your M2 in your brain and cause you not to be spiritual anymore, All right? The Alaskan facility is a massive mental health facility and can hold approximately 2 million people.

There are no roads, there are no Airports, and there is only Railroad access to this FEMA camp. Just like the Nazi concentration camps of World War Two. It is only an estimated capacity of 500,000. Now, just a minute. Just scratch my head, All right.

It says it's conveyed to hold 2 million people, but it only has a capacity of 500,000, which means that you're going to have four times as many people in it, that it actually has capacity for. Which means that there's going to be overcrowding, there's going to be disease, there's going to be everything else. There's a huge, huge furnace on the location. What's that for? To burn the people. All right.

But it is made to house 2 million people. Talk about abuse and inhumane living conditions, 2 million people living in a facility made to hold only ¼ of that amount.

Now, we should not be a part of the problem. Be prudent and only forward to others information that you have verified to be true and useful.

It is located near Elmendorf AFB - Northeast area of Anchorage – and is at the far end of the base. It is called the Garden Plot facility. Eielson AFB - Southeast of Fairbanks. Operation Garden Plot facility. Ft. Wainwright - East of Fairbanks.

Now, a little background is that the Federal Council of Churches, officially called the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, was an ecumenical association of Christian denominations in the United States in the early twentieth century. It represented the Anglican, Baptist, Eastern-Orthodox, Lutheran, Methodist, Moravian, Oriental Orthodox, Polish National Catholic, Presbyterian, and Reformed traditions of Christianity.<sup>[1][2][3]</sup> It merged with other ecumenical bodies in 1950 to form the present day National Council of Churches

By 1923 the member denominations were as follows:

- African Methodist Episcopal Church
- African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church
- Colored Methodist Episcopal Church in America
- General Convention of the Christian Church
- Christian Reformed Church in North America
- Churches of God in North America \(General Eldership\)
- Disciples of Christ
- [Episcopal Church<sup>\[15\]</sup>](#)
- Evangelical Synod of North America
- Evangelical Association
- Free Baptist Church
- [Greek Orthodox Church<sup>\[2\]</sup>](#)
- Friends
- Methodist Episcopal Church
- Methodist Episcopal Church, South
- Methodist Protestant Church
- Moravian Church
- National Council of Congregational Churches
- National Baptist Convention
- Northern Baptist Convention
- [Polish National Catholic Church<sup>\[2\]</sup>](#)
- Presbyterian Church in the United States of America
- Presbyterian Church in the United States
- Primitive Methodist Church
- Reformed Church in America
- Reformed Church in the United States
- Reformed Episcopal Church
- Reformed Presbyterian Church, General Synod
- Romanian Orthodox Church
- Russian Orthodox Church
- Seventh Day Baptist Church
- Syrian Orthodox Church .

What does Orthodox mean? It simply means they claim origin. They claim to be: Hey, we're the first ones, all right? We're doing things right. We're doing things as originally stated.

- United Brethren Church
- Ukrainian Orthodox Church

- United Evangelical Church
- United Presbyterian Church
- United Lutheran Church (consultative)

Now, the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the USA, usually identified as the National Council of Churches (NCC), is the largest ecumenical body in the United States.<sup>[1]</sup> NCC is an ecumenical partnership of 38 Christian faith groups in the United States. Its member communions include mainline Protestant, Eastern Orthodox, African-American, evangelical, and historic peace churches. It has taken over the Pentecostal churches of which the Assemblies of God are the largest.

Together, it encompasses more than 100,000 local congregations and 40 million adherents. It began as the Federal Council of Churches in 1908, and expanded through merger with several other ecumenical organizations to become the National Council of Churches in 1950. Its Interim President and General Secretary is Bishop Vashti Murphy McKenzie. Look at his name. Vashti is a pagan god in India. His name is Bishop Vashti Murphy Mackenzie. So he's an Irish guy. Irish, but he's got the name Vashti, got an Irish name, but he took the name Vashti, a Female God. It is a pagan God in India

From his sermon Ten virgins 60-1211M P:123 The mark of the beast, let's take Revelations 13 just a minute. Revelations 13:15, and just read what he's going to do. Revelation 13:15. And he had power to give life unto the image... (Now, that is, unto the Protestant churches, the Protestant churches.) ... He had power, because they made a image. The Protestant churches through the Council of Churches, is making a place where that all Protestant fellowship will have to be united. How many knows or read of the great united building they got for the churches of the world? Sure. See? Up there now, just like the U.N. nations... And all of them are there, every one of them, even to the Assemblies of God. They're there. They're there. See? It's dog-eat-dog. "As a hog goes to its wallow, and a dog to its vomit," right back the same thing (Absolutely.), almost denying their evangelical stand. And there you are, want to be big, want to act like the rest of the world, like Israel did when they seen the kings and said, "Make us a king." See?

And they're doing it right in this message, doing it right in this message. For numbers. That's all. For numbers. You see a picture here of the Pope in a Pentecostal church. I'm surprised he hasn't gone to one of the message churches. And then you see the Pope with evangelical leaders. So you got the evangelicals on one side. You got the Pentecostal on the other side. He's preached to them both.

Seal of God 54-0514 P:46 I've had Pentecostal people... And the Assemblies of God has gone into the council of churches, which They just hooked their self right up yonder with the old mother harlot. So every church organization comes from Rome. There's the mother of it. And I'm not a Latter-Day saint, or Latter-Day Rain, or ever what you call it. I don't want... I'm none of that. But I mean this, that men and women should be free in Christ Jesus, to walk in Light. And every church should be the same thing. That's true.

Look at the headlines in 1967? Will Roman Catholics Join the National Council of Churches? FEBRUARY 3, 1967. That was the headlines back in 1967 and just 2 years after the prophet of God was taken from us. And how many people stood with the Prophet of God?

Will the Roman Catholic Church (membership: 46 million) join the National Council of Churches (constituent membership: 41.5 million)?

Since 1972 Pentecostals have been in dialogue with the Pontifical Council for promoting Christian Unity of the Catholic church. Since 1993 they have been represented at the annual meeting of the secretaries of Christian World Communions. An international dialogue was established between Pentecostals and the World Alliance of Reformed Churches in 1995, and another between Pentecostals and the WCC, through the Joint Consultative Group authorized at the Harare assembly in 1998. That's Harare, Zimbabwe. At the Harare Assembly in 1998, a new dialogue has been established. I want you to understand this because, you see, the World Council of Churches is actually stronger in Africa than it is here. All right, we have the National Council of Churches. They have the World Council of Churches.

A new dialogue has been established with members from the Lutheran World Federation in 2005. Groups that participate in the Charismatic Renewal and have maintained membership in their historic denominations have often formed positive relationships with the older classical Pentecostal churches.

Now what happened the other day? They're having a big meeting between Putin in Russia and all the countries of Africa are represented around a big, huge Cape. And after Putin gives his speech about coming together, unifying together, then the bishop who's in charge of the Russian Orthodox Church, is given time to speak. And he speaks to everyone and says: Look, we've been meeting with your groups and we're all going to come against the LGBT and the sodomite agenda of the West.

Now just think about that. The World Council of Churches is uniting with, not communism, with the Russian Catholic Church, who claims to be the original. Pope Francis is communist. Putin no longer is communist, He's capitalist. Now, Brother Branham has a whole bunch of quotes where he says: When the World Council of Churches joins together with the Catholic Church to come against communism ... And he also has a bunch of quotes, it says: When the Catholics join together with the communism ... And we're looking at it as if they are one event. There are two events. You have Pope Paul, who is communist himself, has joined together with the communists in America. And now Putin, who is no longer a communist, is gathering together with his Catholic Church and all the World Council of Churches, to come against this country, this communist country.

So, what we used to think is one event, is not one event. It's not one thing that Brother Branham says. And look, it was said in such a way that you get confused. You read it and you say: Oh, I can't understand how these two things can be the same thing. They're not the same thing.

You see how, being very careful and being led of the Holy Ghost, you begin to see that these are two different things. And then you see what's taking place, and you watch it, as I have this week.

I watched the Bishop, the Archbishop of the Roman Catholic Church. And he says, all these nations are coming together, all these Africans are repudiating the agenda of the West, and we're coming together to fight it, he says. To fight it, to fight it. And these events are taking place.

So what event? Communist Catholic Church, unite together, the Roman Catholic Church with the communist in America, which used to be capitalist, but they're not. They're communist now, and now they're fighting against Putin and the Catholic Church and the World Council of Churches. I tell you what, it's very, very clear that these are two events.

From Wikipedia, The free Encyclopedia: Christianity is the most prevalent religion in the United States. Estimates from 2021 suggest that of the entire U.S. population (332 million), about 63% is Christian (210 million). Now, I don't think that Wikipedia is too accurate. I think there's maybe 63% who are professed Christian, but they're fake. There may be a handful, as many as maybe 100, who knows, of true believers in America, of which you are one of them.

The majority of Christian Americans are Protestant Christians (140 million; 42%), though there are also significant numbers of American Roman Catholics (70 million; 21%) and other Christian denominations such as Latter-day Saints, Orthodox Christians and Oriental Orthodox Christians, and Jehovah's Witnesses (about 13 million in total; 4%). The United States has the largest Christian population in the world and, more specifically, the largest Protestant population in the world, with nearly 210 million Christians and, as of 2021, over 140 million people affiliated with Protestant churches, although other countries have higher percentages of Christians among their populations.

The Public Religion Research Institute's "2020 Census of American Religion", carried out between 2014 and 2020, showed that 70% of Americans identified as Christian during this seven-year interval. In a 2020 survey by the Pew Research Center, 65% of adults in the United States identified themselves as Christians. They were 75% in 2015. So what's happened? 70.6% in 2014, 78% in 2012, 81.6% in 2001, and 85% in 1990.

So they've gone from 85% in 20 years down to 65%.

Why? You Tube, Facebook, get off those things. I tell you, why would you put your children and their pictures on Facebook for, other people to Ogle over and decide, hey, do I want to kidnap this one or not? I've got their address right here. I know how. I know their friends. I know where to get them, if I want them. Yeah, I mean, come on people. You got to start thinking we should be like the Amish and just avoid all that stuff. They were 75% in 2015. About 62% of those polled claim to be members of a church congregation.

All Protestant denominations accounted for 48.5% of the population, making Protestantism the most prevalent form of Christianity in the country and the majority religion in general in the United States, while the Catholic Church by itself, at 22.7% of the population, is the largest individual denomination if Protestantism is divided into various denominations instead of being counted as a single category. The nation's second-largest church and the single largest Protestant denomination is the Southern Baptist Convention. They are a member of the WCC.

Among Eastern Christian denominations, there are several Eastern Orthodox and Oriental Orthodox churches, with just below 1 million adherents in the U.S., or 0.4% of the total population.<sup>[13]</sup> Christianity is the predominant religion in all U.S. states and territories. Conversion into Christianity has significantly increased among Korean Americans, Chinese Americans, and Japanese Americans in the United States. In 2012, the percentage of Christians in these communities were 71%, 30% and 37% respectively.

John Coventry Smith, the Presbyterian ecumenist who heads the NCC's "working group" with Roman Catholicism, thinks the Catholics "will join a National Council in ten or fifteen years." He stresses the indefinite article, because the NCC will obviously be a much different organization if it includes the Roman millions.

Speculation has been heightened by two significant events late in 1966. First, the amorphous U. S. Catholic hierarchy became the National Conference of Catholic Bishops, with an apparently more authoritative secretariat to administer programs between annual meetings.

William Norgren, an Episcopalian who is executive director of the NCC's Faith and Order Department, says "autonomy" is one criterion for membership in the NCC. With Roman Catholicism, he observes, "it's hard to tell if it's a series of united national churches, or a world church. If the latter, it's hard to see how they could join the National Council." Thus structure, not size, could be the chief obstacle, and the Roman Catholic bishops' reorganization is an important step. The second significant move came from the other side. In December, the National Council's General Board added the Roman Catholic Church to the list of non-members recognized as agreeing with the brief doctrinal requirement in the NCC Constitution: Now they would never get us to agree with their doctrine. "Communities which confess Jesus Christ as Divine Lord and Savior." Well, I'm sorry, but Jesus Christ is the Son of God, all right? He's not a Trinity, OK?

The immediate effect of the action, spokesmen said, was to make Jesuit David Bowman a legitimate staff member of the NCC's Faith and Order Department. Now Roman Catholics can be hired freely and included as participants in programs and agencies.

So you don't think there's an infiltration taking place, if they can hire Catholics to run the WCC or the NCC? Listen, why do you think this LGBT movement is so accepted amongst the young people today?

Because the teachers are a bunch of queers, and they hired them willy-nillys, and they're teaching your children what you should be teaching them, although they're teaching them the opposite. Like I said, if you're going to let your child go to a public school, which is a devil's school, you better meet with them on a daily basis and find out what they were told. Because, I'm going to tell you what: If you don't, you're going to lose your child.

Observers also saw it as a first step toward Roman Catholic membership. But Monsignor William W. Baum, soft-spoken director of the Roman Catholic Bishops' Commission for Ecumenical Affairs, cautions that "it should not be interpreted as a step toward membership," any more than is the similar recognition of the Southern Baptist Convention by the NCC.

The membership issue has come up informally in the first two meetings of the joint NCC-RCC commission, but Baum said, "The consensus of the group is that the question is premature. We should know more about each other." He said the commission "will look at the possibilities, and this is one possibility." But as to whether it would ever occur, Baum says, "I just don't know.

In other words: Listen, this is back in the 60s when he's saying these things.

Baum also said the National Council of Churches would be changed significantly if several of its major member is to unite under the Consultation on Church Union. Norgren said his staff has spent more time on that question than on what would happen if Rome joined.

Article continues below.

Unlike the Roman Catholic talks with various Protestant confessional groups—which treat the Holy Spirit, baptism, and other theological issues—the talks with the NCC center on such practical interchurch irritants as mixed marriages and public aid for parochial schools. A third, less-developed topic for study is world peace and justice. The joint commission will hold its next meeting in May or June, probably in New York City. Roman Catholics also participate in the annual Faith and Order Colloquium under NCC auspices.

While any Roman Catholic affiliation is far off ("we can't exclude anything for the longer-range future," Norgren says),

The NCC might get a significant new member in the next few years, perhaps by 1968. The 2.5-million-member American Lutheran Church, which stayed out under terms of its 1960 merger, is presently studying NCC ties. Now, I know that some of this stuff is probably boring for you, but I want you to understand where it's all coming together.

Although an NCC-RCC link may sound far-fetched, new ecumenical ground can be broken pretty fast these days. Only a few years ago Roman Catholic churches and city and state councils of churches had nothing to do with each other. But today, the New Mexico state council and at least twenty-one city councils have Roman Catholic members, reports John B. Ketcham of the National Council of Churches.

You know there was a time in this nation that you were forbidden to be Catholic and run for president. Now we've had Kennedy and we've had Biden, and next, who knows, Could be R. Kennedy Junior, could be Pelosi's nephew, or it could be DeSantis. They're all Catholic, all right.

Actually, the figures are probably higher. ("They're running way ahead of us—we can't keep up with them," Ketcham said.)

The NCC has no structural link with local and state councils, but their functions are similar. Ketcham heads an NCC department that advises and surveys the local councils.

Oklahoma City's council was one of the first to include Roman Catholics. Other major cities to follow, were Seattle, Fort Worth, Tulsa, Austin, and Grand Rapids. Kansas City has such a move under discussion.

Now you think the Catholic Church has no teeth. Now let me tell you something. They said they get down to the local level. Did you know that every priest, one of his duties is to keep a report of activities locally and then he sends them to the archbishop. And then the archbishop compiles them and sends them on to the Vatican. Did you know that there's a church in Poland, that when they open their doors within the first week or two, they had a priest at the door and he wanted a full detail of what they believe and everything else. Yeah. They don't have control? I don't think you're thinking too much. OK, you're thinking: "Hope so", and not, "Know so".

Priority For Mixed Marriage

At a secluded retreat in the north of Italy, teams of Roman Catholic and Anglican theologians last month held "a serious dialogue ... founded on the Gospels and on the ancient common traditions."

The three-day sessions produced only one announced result: establishment of a special group for the study of the theology of marriage and the problem of mixed marriages. Protestant, Anglican, and Orthodox churchmen have been insisting that the Vatican ease its conditions for mixed marriages beyond the slight modifications issued by Pope Paul VI last year.

Now, you can go back and listen. And Brother Branham himself was against mixed marriages. But where is that today? Where is it today? It is not spoken of at all.

Article continues below.

A communique issued after the sessions noted that the dialogue had gotten under way as a result of the common declaration of Paul and Arthur Michael Ramsey, Archbishop of Canterbury, after their March 1966, meeting. That declaration affirmed the desire of the prelates “that all those Christians who belong to these two communions may be animated by the same sentiments of respect, esteem, and fraternal love....”

Ten Roman Catholic and eleven Anglican theologians participated in the talks at Villa Kegnola, the retreat of the Archbishop of Milan. Their communique said that “after 400 years of separation” the two churches had taken “first steps towards restoring full unity.”

Religious News Service reported that besides thoroughly exploring both the possibility and the advisability of continuing the dialogue, the participants delved into a variety of practical problems and agreed to submit to their hierarchies a number of recommendations aimed at easing tension and building cooperation and understanding.

The joint commission met under the chairmanship of Catholic Bishop Charles Helmsing of Missouri and Anglican Bishop John Moorman of Ripon, England. The World Council of Churches was represented at the meeting by an associate general secretary, Father Paul Verghese, a priest of the Syrian Orthodox Church in India.

Pope Paul intruded indirectly into the “dialogue” by publicly reaffirming the concept of his own infallibility while the talks were in progress. The pontiff reportedly told an audience of several thousand pilgrims in St. Peter's Basilica: “Here is the magisterium of the church, which sits in its most authoritative chair, and which exercises one of its supreme functions, that of teaching—not an ordinary science but the word of God, and of teaching it in the name of Christ, of interpreting it and guarding it in its genuine meaning and, if necessary, in an infallible way, in certain special cases and in certain solemn forms.”

The same week, the Pope issued a new decree on indulgences that was seen as a disappointment to many who had been hoping for a major overhaul. Official commentators took care to insist that the new document does not imply any change in doctrinal aspects. It is seen primarily as an effort to inspire the faithful to a greater fervor of charity and a more intimate union of all the members of the so-called Mystical Body. The chief effect seemed to be a drastic reduction in the number and forms of indulgences.

Many historians say that the Reformation was precipitated by the issue of indulgences. To this day Protestants find indulgences difficult, if not impossible, to understand. Yet for centuries they have occupied a prominent part in the devotional life of Catholics with the positive encouragement of the church, especially in commemoration of the deceased.

Now, the Catholic Church is not the only Church that believes in indulgences. Did you know that right in this message, they believe in indulgences. I'll tell you how they do it. If you're a millionaire and you're a homosexual, you're allowed to come to church. In fact, one church has ten of them. He has a lot of money coming in, so he just lets it all through. He just lets it all go by. That's an indulgence because, if you got favor with the pastor or with the priest, so to speak, you have favor with God. No, you don't. I'm sorry, but all your tithing it's despicable.

Catholic Church and ecumenism

Te Deum Ecuménico 2009 in the Metropolitan Cathedral of Santiago of Chile, featuring clergy of different Christian denominations

So they're showing a picture here of different denominations all having one service.

Why is the Catholic Church not part of the WCC?

Despite a shared commitment to common witness within the one ecumenical movement, the Roman Catholic Church decided in 1972 not to seek WCC membership in part, because of the disparities between the structure, self-understanding, and size of the Roman Catholic Church and the WCC and its member churches. But the real reason is because of this reason: How can the Beast be part of the Image of the beast? The Bible says they are two, the beast and its image. So naturally, they could not be part of their own image. The image is like the original, but not the same as the original. It is made like unto the beast, but isn't the same.

The Catholic Church has engaged in the modern ecumenical movement, especially since the Second Vatican Council (1962-1965), and the issuing of the decree Unitatis redintegratio, and the declaration Dignitatis humanae. It was at the Council that the Pontifical Council for Promoting Christian Unity, was created. Those outside of the Catholic Church, were categorized as heretics (in reference to Protestantism) or schismatics (as in the case of the Eastern Orthodox Church and Oriental Orthodox Churches), but in many contexts today, to avoid offence, the euphemism "separated brethren" is used. In other words, let's just dumb down the language so they can all agree, let's call them gay instead of sodomite, so there's a less of a stigma, let's call them separated brethren instead of heretics, so there's less of a stigma. You see, it's all rewording.

Ecumenism, from the Greek word "oikoumene", meaning "the whole inhabited world" (cf. Acts 17.6; Mt 24.14; Heb 2.5), is the promotion of cooperation and unity among Christians. The Union of Christendom is a traditional Catholic view of ecumenism; the view is that every non-Catholic Christian ecclesial community, is destined to return to the unity of the Catholic Church, How do they do that? Baptizing them in the name of the Father, Son and Holy Ghost, from which it has broken.<sup>[1]</sup> As the original Church founded by Jesus Christ according to Catholic doctrine, the Church sees itself as "the one true church".<sup>[1]</sup> This means that according to such teaching, Christian unity is already a reality, present in the Catholic Church.

The Catholic Church's commitment to ecumenism was based on the conviction that a divided Christianity "openly contradicts the will of Christ, scandalizes the world, and damages the holy cause of preaching the Gospel to every creature."<sup>[2]</sup>

"The search for Christian Unity was one of the principal concerns of the Second Vatican Council". This was attested to even from the moment the Council was announced, by Pope John XXIII, during the vespers closing the Octave of Prayer for Christian Unity on 25 January 1959, at the Basilica of Saint Paul Outside the Walls.

"The Catholic Church is committed to working for the reunion of all Christians, but the exuberant spirit following Vatican II has been tempered. Sober minds realize that the road to full unity will be long and arduous. One of the principal ecclesiological tasks is to discern the relationship between the Churches." Underlying the Catholic Church's pursuit of ecumenism is its recognition that elements of sanctification and truth are found in other churches, that, in some sense, these are Christians and Particular Churches or ecclesial communities, and that common baptism itself impels those toward greater unity. There you go, Common Baptism, Name of Father, Son and Holy Ghost. Since Baptism is a gift which "belongs" to the Catholic Church as one of the Sacraments which Christ endowed it with. It can be said that the "ecumenicity" of the Church is another way of expressing her "radical catholicity and/or universality".

The Directory for the Application of Principles and Norms on Ecumenism states that bishops of the Catholic Church, "individually for their own dioceses, and collegially for the whole Church, are, under the authority of the Holy See, responsible for ecumenical policy and practice".

For more than 50 years, the member churches of the WCC and the Roman Catholic Church have jointly fostered unity, theological reflection, and solidarity in service.

The Roman Catholic Church is the largest, by far, among those churches that are not members of the WCC. Cooperation between the Roman Catholic Church and the WCC continues to grow across all aspects of the WCC's work for a common Christian witness and service, especially following the visit of Pope Francis to the WCC in June 2018. The Joint Working Group, co-sponsored by the WCC and the Roman Catholic Church, is an effective tool to strengthen this cooperation.

Created in 1965, the year William Branham left us, immediately following the Second Vatican Council, the group brings together its 20 members annually; an executive group meets twice in between. The group's two co-secretaries – one from the Pontifical Council for Promoting Christian Unity and one representing the WCC – help to coordinate contact between the WCC and the departments (or di-casteries) of the Vatican

Handwriting on the wall 58-0309M P:56 Listen friend, there isn't a thing, this very hour, in the next twenty-five minutes or ten minutes, for Russia to send up it's satellite and sweep it over here across this nation, train it's missile, say, "Surrender, or in two minutes you'll be nothing but dust." They can do it right now. Think of it. They can do it right now.

What would happen? Plane load after plane load, ship load after ship load, of ungodly communistic soldiers would swallow our lands, would grab our girls, and take them into the street and treat them like cattle, ram a sword through them, go into our homes and take our wives out and bust the baby's head against the wall, and ravish our women. You say one thing, it belongs to them. You say, "Will our Pentagons surrender? Sure, it would. That'd be the only sensible thing for it to do. It would have to do it. If it didn't, we'd be nothing but powder in a few minutes. We'd have maybe a few more hours of life, but what a slaughter. What? They may be loading on the planes right now. The ships may be in harbor. Soon, these things that we're talking about can be a reality.

There's not one thing left for it to happen--to keep it from happening according to prophecy. Here we are. And next week, you don't know what condition you could be in. The handwriting is on the wall. We're weighed in the balance and found wanting.

Now, Putin is getting ready to annihilate this sodomite country. Listen to his language, listen carefully to non-mainstream media and you will find that Putin is talking about nuking this ungodly country. He's talking that his country is a godly Christian country that does not believe in the sodomite and the LGBT movements of this nation. He's now addressing all of the African countries and saying let's do it together, let's fight this together. So it's later than you think.

And today was kind of a dry sermon. But I want you to see the formation, and I want to see who their allegiance is to the world. The Council of Churches is aligned with the WHO. Don't ever forget that.

Because the WHO is nothing but a dictator that doesn't even have a doctor's degree. He's not even a medical doctor that's running it. He's a bureaucrat, and he's controlled by the WEF.

Let's bow our heads in prayer. Gracious Father we thank you. Thank you, Lord, for this work. We thank you for this study. And Lord, help it to just sink home witch power that we really are living in, when we see Russia and all the world Council church members in Africa saying: Hey, we've got to come against this sodomite agenda in the West, these communists in the West. So Lord, we recognize this and we recognize that there is a war that's going on right now. In Jesus Name we pray. Amen.

So I hope you understand I'm not angry with anybody, but I am angry with an agenda by Satan.

This is Satan's Eden. We're going to go back to the Satan's Eden sermon. We're actually in it, but kind of took a sidestep with some of these sermons, but we're going to get back into it. And you see the things that Brother Branham says, are actually taking place in this hour. God bless you all.
